IF W. B. Corsets cost more than other corsets there might be an excuse for accepting a substitute. But both W. B. Nuforms and W. B. Erect Forms are sold in all qualities from $1 the pair up to the most exquisite productions with every detail of cloth, craftsmanship and trimming as fine as a woman could want.

They possess so many points of difference (and each "difference" means a betterment) that you should insist upon a W. B. when you buy a corset.

The only corsets unqualifiedly endorsed by the National Dressmakers' Conventions.

On sale at all dealers.

MISS RUTH JENNINGS.

It will be a matter of much interest to the many Richmond friends of Miss Ruth Jennings, of Lynchburg, to hear of her approaching wedding to Mr. St. John Allison Lawton, of Charleston, S. C., the celebration to take place at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of November 22d.

The place of the ceremony will be Court Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Lynchburg, the Rev. Dr. G. C. Kelley, the Rev. Dr. W. J. Young, of Centenary Church, this city, and the Rev. Ernest Stevens officiating. No cards have been issued.

Miss Jennings is the daughter of the Hon. Tipton Jennings, of Lynchburg, and is a most attractive type of Virginia womanhood. For the past two years she occupied the office of president of the Virginia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and those who witnessed the dignity and grace with which she presided at the State convention of the division, convening in Richmond November 8th, can well estimate the value of her official services. During her stay in Richmond, Miss Jennings was the guest of Miss Baughman, at No. 1101 Grove Avenue. She enjoys a maximum degree of popularity in her native city and Virginia. Her friends everywhere regret that after her marriage she will live in Charleston, S. C.

Her fiancé is the owner and proprietor of St. John's Hotel, Charleston, and a very successful man of business, who has a prominent social position. He met Miss Jennings at a U. D. C. convention held in Charleston two years ago, and has made a most favorable impression since during his visits to her in Virginia. The bride and groom-elect have the best wishes of a large contingent of society in Carolina and the Old Dominion.
